Study Room Terms & Conditions

Study rooms can be reserved no more than 1 week in advance.

A room may be scheduled for up to two hours at a time.

If no one is waiting, you may continue to use the room in 15 minute increments until someone else wants it.

There is a limit of 3 reservations per week per person or group for the study rooms. If you are found to violate this policy, your study room privileges may be revoked.

Study rooms are available for not-for-profit use. Prior to using a study room, you must make a reservation online or at the Circulation Desk.

Staff may make exceptions to this policy for public service-oriented use or Library programs.

By reserving a study room, you understand that you must comply with all policies listed in these terms and conditions.
