For groups with an applicable rental fee, the full rental fee is due within five (5) business days of the date of the application approval to finalize the reservation. No refunds will be made for any cancellation less than seven (7) days prior to scheduled event.

Care and Use of Library Meeting Rooms

- Upon arrival, the group must check in to pick up a Meeting Room Information Form and must return the completed form to staff at the conclusion of the meeting. Repeated failure to submit meeting room attendance slips and/or failure to leave the room in good condition may result in loss of meeting room privileges.
- Groups are not allowed access until their designated time listed on their application. This includes access to the kitchen. Please email reservations@tpml.org if you will need to access the room earlier than stated on application. Please note early access is not guaranteed due to other meetings.
- The arrangement of tables and chairs in other than the standard set-up of the room will be the responsibility of the group reserving the room. Any equipment other than what is installed, must be provided by the user and removed at the end of the meeting.
- The Library does not serve as a storage space for meeting groups and as such storage rooms will remain locked. Please see a staff member if your group will need access for extra chairs and tables.
- Reservation of a meeting room does not include the use of library staff, except for basic technical support for the facility’s audio-visual equipment. The library does not provide laptop computers. Library staff will not be available for set-up, clean-up or to rearrange furniture.
- Sanitation supplies will be provided, but it is the responsibility of the group to clean the room before use if they desire.
- Due to the close proximity of the library meeting rooms to the library, noise is expected to be kept at an acceptable level. There will be no amplified music or other activities that would disturb library users.
- Coffee stations are a part of each meeting room with a coffee pot that uses basket type filters, water faucet and sink. However, you must furnish your own coffee, filters, cups, stirrers, napkins and condiments, and clean up after your use.
- Kitchen facilities are not for the exclusive use of any group. Food preparation is limited to warming only, and not for cooking. If you are using caterers, you must include their time for set-up and clean-up when the original booking is made.
  - If using a catering company, the room holder must coordinate with the caterer to deliver at the library’s side door labeled “KITCHEN & COMMUNITY ROOM DELIVERIES ONLY”.
- The Library meeting rooms and kitchen facilities must be left in good condition: clean and restored to the standard set-up. I.e. The coffee pot, if used, must be emptied and cleaned. All trash must be placed in trash cans. Groups serving food or filling trash cans to more than half capacity must remove trash to the dumpster located in the Library parking lot. An inspection of the kitchen area by library staff will be required at the conclusion of your reservation. Failure to leave the facilities in good order will result in a cleaning/damage fee. Until the fee is paid, the group will not be allowed to use the meeting rooms.
• The use of confetti, rice, glitter or any decoration designed to be thrown on the grounds, tabletops, or carpets may not be used. Any group doing so will incur an additional cleaning fee for its removal. Candles may not be used.

• No decorations, banners, or signage may be attached in any way to the walls or ceilings. Rolling white boards and easels are available for use in the meeting rooms. The Library does not provide pads of paper, pens, or flip charts. Dry erase markers may be loaned out upon request.

• Alcohol may not be served during library operating hours.

• The library is not responsible for injuries sustained by those attending the event if due to negligence of the applicant.

• If using the outside access doors or the catering door, the room holder must ask staff to unlock the doors rather than propping them open which creates issues with the library’s A/C system.
